

INTERNATIONAL UCEMA

The Universidad del CEMA (University of CEMA - UCEMA) is a non-profit private organization whose beginning dates back to 1978. First founded as a think tank, the university currently offers seven undergraduate programs, ten graduate level programs, and executive programs within the areas of business, finance, economics, computer engineering, political science and international relations.

At the UCEMA there is no complete and definitive truth, but the constant desire to find a better solution to problems of reality. To this day you can still feel this foundational spirit in the corridors of the University. And it is this way of understanding knowledge and its practice, that allows further developing and new possibilities.

UCEMA's mission is to contribute to the growth, development and well being of our community by generating the knowledge and forming the leaders that will transform and develop the world of business, academia and public policy.
