Ayelén Sánchez

NEXT SEMINAR OF THE CYCLE FOR THE STUDY OF A FREE SOCIETY

On Wednesday, July 6 at 5 pm Dr. Ayelén Sánchez, fellow of the Friedman Hayek Center, will give the presentation: “Ser libre” se dice de muchas maneras: Algunas herramientas filosóficas para pensar de qué hablamos cuando hablamos de libertad” (“Being free” is said in many ways: Some philosophical tools to think about what we are talking about when we talk of freedom).

During this talk some of the most important meanings that the concept of human freedom acquires will be analyzed. The presentation will try to show that, even though there exists a diversity of ways of conceiving freedom, that does not mean that they are all equally valid. Especially, it will propose a reflection with regard to the intimate connections that exist between the possibility of being free and our constitution as rational beings.

NEXT SEMINAR OF THE HISTORY AND FREEDOM CYCLE – PRESENTATION OF THE BOOK THE POOR PAY

On Wednesday July 6 at 1 p.m. Dr. Juan Sebastián Landoni, fellow of the Center, will present the book “Pagan los pobres” (The poor pay), written jointly with Luciano Villegas.

The poor pay does not reflect on the poverty of the ascetic, but thinks of the poverty of those who are trapped by a cultural, social, economic and political environment that prevents them from getting out of a situation they do not want. Public policy mistakes have negative consequences for many individuals and groups. But the burden of those mistakes ultimately falls on the poor, both old and new ones. Nevertheless, this is not a book against public policy but about the unintended consequences of public policies with good intentions; those that

 Daniel Lema	NEXT SEMINAR OF THE AGRICULTURAL ECONOMY, NATURAL RESOURCES AND AGRIBUSINESS CYCLE Dr. Daniel Lema, fellow of the Center will give the seminar “La economía política del ‘valor agregado’ en el agro” (The political economy of ‘added value’ in agriculture”). The concept of Added Value (AV) and its use as economic indicator for evaluating activities in the agro-industrial chain. Through a theoretical analysis and a series of examples it is shown that the concept AV cannot be used as a guide for private economic decision making or for the design of public policies. The cycle is organized and coordinated by Dr. Marcos Gallacher, who is also a fellow at the Center. You can register for this seminar by clicking here

Javier Firpo

NEXT SEMINAR OF THE CYCLE OF EDUCATIONAL FREEDOM

On Thursday, July 7 at 12:30 pm, Javier Firpo will give the presentation “Educar para la vida y el trabajo: una oportunidad de potenciar las prácticas profesionalizantes de la Educación Técnica.” (Educating for life and work: an opportunity to promote professionalizing practices in Technical Education”).

In this seminar, the speaker will describe an initiative that arose as a result of the COVID-19 Pandemic, through which motivating virtual experiences were integrated so that students in the last year of the Technical Education system can comply with the legal requirement to carry out Professionalizing Practices to obtain their Diploma and acquire necessary and useful skills that will make it easier for them to get their first job.
